

Sangre de Vino (call name Kokopelli)

About

Kokopelli is our handsome dark red Tuxedo boy from our Erica Hope and our Vino de Fuego. He's a deep shade of red with white mismarks. Deep red is extremely hard to find in the Labradoodle world and Kokopelli gets this from the elusive "rufus" gene, passed down from his dad, Vino de Fuego, and grandfather, Jugar con Fuego.

Kokopelli represents an all-new Australian Labradoodle line developed right here at Cream Puff Labradoodles! This line is extremely important for the gene diversity in the Australian Labradoodle breed, something we concentrate on here at CPL. It's safe to say that Kokopelli's puppies will be "one of a kind" as there are very few labradoodles that are even distantly related to him via the Poodle, Labrador and infusion lines that are out there.

Kokopelli lives with his canine step-brother Roar in an awesome Guardian home near the Jersey Shore. Their home is filled not only with two fluffy labradoodles but also the gift of song as his "pawrents" are both teachers and professors of music!
